

Italgas Capital Markets Day to take place in London today

San Donato Milanese, 24 October 2016 – Italgas' top management will meet financial analysts and institutional investors today at the Italgas Capital Markets Day, which will take place in London at 2pm BST (3pm CET).

A roadshow to present the Company to the financial community in the main European and US financial markets will subsequently start.

The Company is finalizing the activities to start the trading of Italgas ordinary shares on the MTA (Mercato Telematico Azionario) organized and managed by Borsa Italiana S.p.A. on 7 November 2016, following the granting of the necessary authorizations by CONSOB and the Italian Stock Exchange. As of this date, the effects of the separation from Snam will officially come into force.

The webcast and the documents of the presentation will be available in real time on www.snam.it, starting at 2pm BST.
